July 29, 2026

DR. JUAN JOSE RAFAEL G. LAICO, FPNA
Dean
Gullas College of Medicine, Inc.

Dear Dr. Laico,

It is with great enthusiasm that I write this letter of recommendation for Mr. Joseph Anthony Ildefonso F. Virtucio, a graduate student of Bachelor of Science in Biology Major in Medical Biology to support his application to your esteemed Doctor of Medicine program.

Throughout the semesters I have worked with him, Joseph consistently demonstrated an exceptional level of academic performance, intellectual curiosity, and unwavering dedication to his studies. He was consistently among the top students in his class, distinguished not just by his grades but by his analytical approach to problem-solving and his active engagement during lectures and discussions.

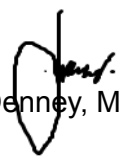

As his research mentor, I witnessed firsthand his perseverance and integrity during the demanding process of thesis writing and research development. Joseph displayed remarkable diligence and independence, regularly consulting for feedback, revising his work meticulously, and applying scientific rigor to every phase of his project. His ability to manage timelines, synthesize literature, and maintain ethical standards throughout his study is commendable and reflective of the professionalism expected in medical training.

What sets Joseph apart is not just his academic excellence, but his grounded character and genuine desire to serve. He carries with him a quiet confidence, balanced by humility and respect for others—qualities that will undoubtedly serve him well in the noble calling of medicine.

I firmly believe that Joseph Anthony Ildefonso F. Virtucio possesses the intellectual aptitude, emotional maturity, and work ethic to thrive in the challenges of medical education and beyond. I strongly and without reservation recommend him for admission to your Doctor of Medicine program.

Should you require further information, please do not hesitate to contact me at briandenney@cim.edu.ph.

Sincerely,

Brian M. Denney, MD, RMT, MSMT, PhD(c)